What do you see as the greatest opportunity for the SAR?

We are at a pivotal time and the SAR needs to take progressive action to plan for the next decade. We need to be pro-active.

What do you see as the biggest threat to the MLS industry?

Outside influences that can deplete the integrity & strength of the MLS. Accuracy, dependability and leadership is essential to always have a strong foundation and training ground.

What is your primary motivation for wanting to serve as a SAR director?

I feel I am reasonable and fair. I have always wanted to be more involved and this is a good time for me personally to be involved. My kids are raised and my business is solid.

What are your leadership strengths and skills and how will they enhance the SAR Board of Directors?

I am an excellent communicator and problem solver. I can see several different sides to a situation and can evaluate and work with a group collectively to create an equitable solution. I ask a lot of questions and research information and listen to other points of view. The MLS should have high standards and adopt new ideas.

Short Bio:

I have been involved with Real Estate for several decades, the last 12 as a real estate broker for Windermere Manito. In my earlier career I was a news anchor/reporter in two different markets for several years. It's that experience that has helped me market homes and always ask a lot of questions. As a director for the SAR I would be pro-active, inclusive, and fair.

I am a reasonable person, an excellent communicator and very solution oriented. I like working with fellow brokers, resolving problems and creating solutions for all members, as we move forward making decisions that will impact our livelihoods.
